Text: Gabon and Equatorial Guinea Africa Cup of National 2012

- 1- The 2012 Africa Cup of Nation, also Known as the Orange Africa Cup of Nations for sponsorship reasons was the 28 th edition of the Africa Cup of Nation, the football championship of Africa organized by the Confederation of African Football (CAF) .
- 2- The competition views co-hosted in two countries, it took place in Equatorial Guinea and Gabon from 21 January to 12 February 2012. The bidding process for hosting the tournament ended in September 2006, the continental football federation CAF, selected Equatorial Guinea and Gabon to become the first African nations to co-host the finals.
- 3- The matches were played in four stadiums in four host cities around the two countries, with final played at the newly built Staded'Angondjé in Gabon's largest city Libreville. Fourteen teams were selected for participation via a continental qualification tournament that began in July 2010.
- 4- The 2012 edition of the Africa Cup of Nations was one of the most politically –charged sports events to take place, Libya (Libyan civil war) and Tunisia's (Tunisian revolution)national teams qualified for the tournament despite a political backdrop which saw both country's autocratic rulers ousted from power. Players of the Libyan and Tunisian national teams had fought on the front line in their respective campaigns. The traditional footballing nation such as reigning champions Egypt (also affected by political events), Cameroon, Nigeria, Algeria and South Africa had failed to quality. Players from third-placed Mali pleaded for the insurgency in the Azawad to end.
- 5- In the first round of the tournament finals , the teams competed in round-robin groups of four teams for points , with the top two teams in each group proceeding. These eight teams advanced to the knockout stage, where three rounds of play decided which teams would participate in the final. Both host nations, Equatorial Guinea and Gabon, were eliminated from the competition at the quarter final stage.
- 6- In the final, unfancied Zambia, the Southern African regional body's 2009 COSAFA Cup runner-up, defeated third-time finalists Côte d'Ivoire after a dramatic penalty shootout in the final, giving Zambia their first continental title , becoming the fourteenth nation to win the tournament . The Zambian team dedicated their win to the members of the national team who died near the final's venue in Libreville during the 1993 Zambia national football team air disaster.

SUITE 1 EPREUVE D'ANGLAIS 2^{ndes} ABCD

- 7- Gabon and Equatorial Guinea won the right to host the tournament after defeating a Nigerian bid along with two other bid winning nations, Angola and Libya. Bids from Mozambique, Namibia, Zimbabwe and Senegal were rejected. For the first time in CAF history, the hosts of three successive tournaments were chosen at the same time, Angola was chosen host in 2010, Gabon/ Equatorial Guinea were chosen as hosts for the 2012 cup and Libya was originally scheduled to host the 2013 edition. In light of the Libyan civil war, Libya and South Africa then traded places, with the former arranging in 2012 and the latter in 2013 instead.
- 8- The mascot for the 2012 Africa Cup of Nations was unveiled on 16 September 2011 at a ceremony in Libreville Gabon. The mascot, named Gaguie, is a gorilla sporting the national team colours of Gabon and Equatorial Guinea.
- 9- The official match ball for 2012 Africa Cup of Nations manufactured by Adidas is named the Comoequa. The name inspired from the Komo River which runs through the host nations, and the Equator which runs throughout Africa.
