L'Epreuve

- I) La réaction à un texte écrit
- A- Contexte: Il y a quelques années le gouvernement a rendu gratuite l'éducation des filles pour les encourager à aller à l'école. Cet état de chose n'empêche pas certains parents à enlever leurs filles de l'école et les forcer au mariage. Dans le texte qui va suivre, vous verrez le cas de Barikissou est un exemple de ce phénomène.

B- Support:

Text: Decided to be educated

Some years ago, Barikissou a polite and generous girl ran away from home. Her father, a selfish man told her she had to drop out of school and get married, despite the free education of girls. « I don't want to get married », said Barikissou. « I want to stay in school! ».

Barikissou was only 12 years old. She belongs to peuhl tribe, a proud nomadic people in the north of Benin. They roam the country-side herding cattle, goats and sheep. This reliable tribe unfortunately gives little importance to education, especially the education of girls.

Luckily, Barikissou knew where to go for help. She ran fast to a church boarding primary school. The principal, an honest woman, knowing that girls must get an education, protected Barikissou when her father and the bridegroom came. Barikissou never returned home. She started school and became an educated woman. Today, she has a good job and she is very happy.

Notes on vocabulary : Despite : malgré ; roam : se promener ; herding cattle : élever de bétails ; reliable : fiable ; unfortunely : malheureusement ; bridegroom : mari
